SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 38.

Relative to the use of Yerba Buena Island, in San Francisco Bay, as a union railway terminal, requesting and directing the State Board of Harbor Commissioners to promote the undertaking, and petitioning Congress to make the necessary cession therefor.

WHEREAS, It is entirely practicable to connect Yerba Buena Island, in San Francisco Bay, with the Alameda County shore, either by a solid causeway, or by a causeway and bridge, at a cost entirely justified by the size and importance of the undertaking; and

WHEREAS, The present use of the island as a naval training station is an entirely limited one, quite out of proportion with the real value of the island when measured with its larger possible use; and

WHEREAS, The utilization of the island as a union railway terminal would reduce the running time of the ferry service from San Francisco to Alameda County by at least two thirds, and greatly expedite both passenger and freight service, which is increasing at a very rapid rate; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, jointly, That the State Board of Harbor Commissioners be, and they hereby are, requested and directed to promote the undertaking and to assist by all proper measures in carrying the movement to a speedy and successful conclusion; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State of California respectfully petitions the Congress of the United States to cede Yerba Buena Island to this state for the purposes above recited, and guarantees that if the request be granted said island will be open to all on equal terms and will be conducted by the state as a public utility for the purpose of a union railway terminal; and be it further

Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be, and they hereby are, urged and requested to use all honorable means to secure the early passage of such legislation as may be necessary for the cession or grant of said island for the purpose above outlined; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be, and he hereby is, directed to send a copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress; also to the Board of Harbor Commissioners of the State of California.

By striking out all of the title after the words "An Act", and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "To amend the title and an Act entitled 'An Act concerning dependent and delinquent minor children, providing for their care, custody and maintenance until twenty-one years of age; providing for their commitment to the Whittier State School and the Preston State School of Industry, and the manner of such commitment and release therefrom, establishing a probation committee and probation officers to deal with such children, and fixing the salaries of probation officers; providing for detention homes for said children; providing for the punishment of persons responsible for, or contributing to, the dependency or delinquency of children; and giving to the superior court jurisdiction of such offenses, and repealing inconsistent Acts,' approved March 8, 1909, and as amended by an Act approved April 5, 1911."

Also: Strike out all of the bill after the enacting clause, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. The title of an Act entitled "An Act concerning dependent and delinquent minor children, providing for their care, custody and maintenance until twenty-one years of age; providing for their commitment to the Whittier State School and the Preston State School of Industry, and the manner of such commitment and release therefrom; establishing a probation committee and probation officers to deal with such children, and fixing the salaries of probation officers; providing for detention homes for said children; providing for the punishment of persons responsible for, or contributing to, the dependency or delinquency of children; and giving to the superior court jurisdiction of such offenses, and repealing inconsistent Acts," approved March 8, 1909, and as amended by an Act approved April 5, 1911, is hereby amended to read as follows: "An Act concerning neglected, dependent and delinquent persons, providing for their care, custody and maintenance until twenty-one years of age; providing for their commitment to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, and the manner of such commitment and release therefrom; establishing a probation committee and probation officers to deal with such persons; fixing the salaries of probation officers; providing detention homes for said persons; providing for the punishment of those responsible for, or contributing to, the neglect, dependency or delinquency of said persons; and giving to the superior court jurisdiction of such offenses, and repealing inconsistent Acts."

SEC. 2. Said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. This Act shall be known as the "juvenile court law" and shall apply only to persons under the age of twenty-one years and not now or hereafter inmates of a state institution.

or delinquent person, and praying that the superior court deal with such person as provided in this Act. Such petition shall be verified and shall contain a statement of facts constituting such neglect, dependency or delinquency, as defined in this Act, and the names and residence if known to the petitioner, of the parents or guardians of said neglected, dependent or delinquent person. There shall be no fee for filing such petition.

SEC. 7. Upon the filing of the petition provided for in section six hereof, a citation shall issue, requiring the person or persons having the custody or control of the alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person, or with whom such alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person may be, to appear with said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person at a time and place stated in the citation. Service of such citation must be made at least twenty-four hours before the time stated therein for such appearance. The parents or guardians of said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person, if residing within the county in which the court sits, and if their places of residence be known to the petitioner, or if there be neither parent nor guardian so residing, or if their places of residence be not known to the petitioner, then some relative of said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person, if any there be residing within said county, and if his residence and relationship to such alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person be known to petitioner, shall be notified of the proceedings by service of citation requiring him or them to appear at the time and place stated in such citation. In any case the judge may appoint some suitable person to act in behalf of said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person, and may order such further notice of the proceedings to be given as he may deem proper. If any person, cited as herein provided, shall fail, without reasonable cause, to appear and abide by the order of the court, or to bring said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person, if so required in the citation, such failure shall constitute a contempt of said court and may be punished as provided for in other cases of contempt of court. In case such citation can not be served or the party served fails to obey the same, and in any case in which it shall be made to appear to the court that such citation will probably be ineffective, a warrant of arrest shall issue on the order of the court, either against the parent or guardian, or the person having the custody of said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person, or with whom the said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person may be, or against the said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person himself, or any or all said persons; or if there be no person to be served with citation as above provided, a warrant of arrest may be issued against the said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person immediately. On the return of the citation or other process, or as soon thereafter as may be, the court shall proceed to hear and dispose of the case in a summary manner. Until the final disposition of any case, the said alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person may be retained in the possession of the person having charge of said person, or may be kept upon the order of the court, in some suitable place, provided by the county, or may be held otherwise as the court may direct.

SEC. 8. When any alleged neglected person under the age of twenty-one years shall be found by said court or judge to be a neglected person within the meaning of this Act, the court may make an order placing said neglected person, for such time as the court may deem fit, but not beyond the time when such neglected person shall reach the age of twenty-one years, in the care of some reputable person of good moral character, or in the care of some association, society or corporation willing to receive him, embracing in its objects the purpose of caring for or obtaining homes for neglected persons, or to the care of the probation officer or other person to remain in the home of said neglected person, or other home approved by the court; provided, however, that no such neglected person shall be placed in the care of any family home, detention home or institution, where such person will be brought into association with delinquent persons, or dependent persons who have been adjudged dependent because of wilful misconduct, immorality or depravity on the part of such dependent persons; but further provided, that persons heretofore declared dependent upon grounds which in this Act constitute neglect shall for such purposes be treated as neglected persons. No person adjudged to be a neglected person shall be eligible for adoption in accordance with Section 224 of the Civil Code of the State of California, unless the judge of the juvenile court has declared such child to be eligible for adoption, and such parent or parents have been present in court on the day when such declaration of such eligibility for adoption has been made, or have duly cited and have failed to appear in court, or, in case the party serving such citation, after due and diligent search, has been unable to find such parent or parents and to make service upon them of such citation, then after publication of such citation as is provided for the publication of summons in section four hundred and thirteen of the Code of Civil Procedure and failure of the parties thus cited to appear. Whenever the judge of the juvenile court shall make an order of placement of a neglected person, or of commitment of a dependent or delinquent person, said judge shall also make a finding as to whether or not such person is an orphan, half-orphan, or abandoned child, and shall certify the same to the auditor of the county in which the court making such finding is situated.

tion over the neglected, dependent or delinquent person when so directed by the court, to furnish the court information and assistance whenever required, and, from time to time, to advise and recommend to the court any change or modification of the order made in the case of a neglected, dependent or delinquent person as may be for the best interests of such person. Upon request of the probation officer, any member of the probation committee shall investigate the case of any alleged neglected, dependent or delinquent person coming under the provisions of this Act, and render a report thereon to the probation officer. The probation committee shall also have the control and management of the internal affairs of any detention home or branch detention home heretofore or hereafter established by the county board of supervisors; and it shall be the duty of said board of supervisors to provide for the payment of such employees as may be needed in the efficient management of such detention home or branch detention home or homes.

SEC. 12. Members of the probation committee shall serve without compensation, but shall be allowed their reasonable traveling expenses as approved by the judge of the juvenile court; and the same shall be a charge upon the county in which the court appointing them has jurisdiction, and said expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury upon a written order of the judge of the juvenile court of said county directing the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasury for the specified amount of such expenses. All orders by the juvenile court judge upon the county treasury shall be filed in duplicate with the county board of supervisors.

SEC. 13. There shall be appointed, as hereinafter provided, a probation officer in every county, and he may appoint as many deputies as he may desire: provided, however, that such deputies shall not have authority to act until their appointment shall have been approved by a majority vote of the probation committee, and by the judge of the juvenile court. The term of office of such deputies shall expire with the expiration of the term of office of the probation officer making such appointments, but either the judge or the probation officer, with the consent of the judge, may at any time in his discretion, revoke and terminate any such appointment. Such deputies, except as hereinafter provided, shall serve without compensation. Every probation officer and every assistant probation officer receiving an official salary shall, at the time that he files his oath of office, file with the county clerk of the county his official bond approved by the judge of the juvenile court. The judge of the juvenile court shall have authority by an order entered in the minutes of said court to determine and fix the amount of bonds of the probation officer of the county and of his assistants. If said bonds, or any of them, are furnished by any surety company licensed to transact business in the State of California, the premium thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury.

SEC. 14. The offices of probation officer and assistant probation officer are hereby created. The probation officers and assistant probation officers to serve hereunder in any county shall be nominated by the probation committee in such manner as the judge of the juvenile court in the respective counties shall direct; and the appointment of such probation officers and assistant probation officers shall then be made by the judge of the respective juvenile courts. The term of office of the probation officers and assistant probation officers shall be two years from the date of their said appointments. All probation officers and assistant probation officers receiving a salary of seventy-five dollars or more per month shall devote their entire time and attention to the duties of their offices, and no such probation officer or assistant probation officer, while holding such office and receiving salary therefor, shall be a candidate or seek the nomination for any other public office or employment, and no person shall be appointed to and receive the salary attached to such office of either probation officer or assistant probation officer who is related to the judge of the juvenile court or to a member of the probation committee of such county, by consanguinity or affinity, within the third degree, computed according to the rules of law. Such probation officers and assistant probation officers may at any time be removed by the judge of the juvenile court for good cause; provided, that no such probation officer or assistant probation officer shall be removed unless he has been furnished with a specific statement in writing of the reasons for such removal, said statement to be approved and signed by the judge of the juvenile court and by a majority of the probation committee.

The prosecution in appeal of such cases shall be governed as to costs and as to all other matters not herein provided for by the statutes governing appeals in criminal causes.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Senator Avey arose to a question of personal privilege, and addressed the Senate as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT: During my entire legislative experience I have never before spoken to a question of personal privilege. After the close of my present term I expect never to enter these legislative halls again in an official capacity.

It is with a heavy heart that I arise to speak at this time.

On yesterday for more than an hour in company with a representative from Redlands, I discussed with Mr. E. D. Roberts the conditions existing in San Bernardino County and the causes which led to the introduction at this session of the Legislature of Senate Bill No. 1764. Mr. Roberts admitted that inequalities and injustices exist in San Bernardino County in the administration of our governmental affairs and stated that he sympathized with the people of Redlands in the treatment they had received and are receiving.

We were of the opinion and are still of the opinion that these injustices and inequalities result in part from the tremendous size and the topography of the county, while Mr. Roberts contended that they were entirely due to the character of the county government.

He earnestly requested that we would not press the bill, stating that he would fight for a square deal for Redlands and all parts of the county in the several matters discussed, and that he believed this could be brought about without county division.

Among the many injustices that we discussed, it was stated that a certain mountain road had been promised to the people of Redlands six years ago and nothing had been done toward fulfilling the promise; that within the last thirty days Redlands had agreed to raise five to ten thousand dollars toward the construction of this road, provided the county would fulfill its promise. Mr. Roberts asked if we would be willing to withdraw bill No. 1764 if the county would accept the money raised by Redlands and complete the road. My reply was, that we would not, and I further stated, as I have stated many times before, that in justice either the county should or should not build that road and what we were fighting for was a square deal for Redlands.

Mr. Roberts then asked me if I would give him until afternoon. My reply was that I would not press the bill until that time.

This is the conversation to which Mr. Roberts referred in his communication to the members of this body under date of May 7th, as verified by the gentleman from Redlands who was present and took part in the discussion.

In view of these facts, I rise at this time to state that the statement of Mr. Roberts in his communication is, to say the least, a very serious distortion of the facts when he states that the "author of the bill offered to withdraw the bill providing the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors would spend $17,800 on a road into the mountains from Redlands to a private resort."

COMMUNICATION.

Senator Juilliard presented the following communication, which was ordered printed in the Journal:

OFFICE OF STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA, SACRAMENTO, May 7, 1913.

Hon. L. W. Juilliard, Senate Chamber, Sacramento, Cal.

DEAR SIR: In response to your inquiry regarding the probable effect upon franchise tax assessments of the enactment of Assembly Bill No. 1198, we submit you herewith a list of actual computations based upon statements made this year by corporations of various classes. In the first column is given the amount of tax which has been figured out for this year by the State Board of Equalization proceeding on the rule which this board has followed during the last three assessment years, and in the second column are given the amounts of tax, figured upon the same statements, which it would be compulsory for the board to impose if Assembly Bill No. 1198 were the law at the present time. These corporations have not been selected for the purpose of making an argument either for or against the bill, but are taken practically at random, and we believe the illustrations furnished make a very fair test of what the effect of the bill would be in operation. We have omitted the nature of the several assessments, but the different kinds of property [illegible] are engaged in any attack, and after the business in which they are concerned.

A fifth party, outside any party to that difference, complains that he is affected very differently by the assessments of the two as [illegible] such [illegible] the great lack of uniformity in appraisals of the various assets for the most striking characteristic. Other complaints could be cited, some [illegible] and others would have been quite [illegible]. SEC. 2. Whenever the charter of any city mentioned in section one of this Act, or any amendment to such charter, or any ordinance of such city authorized by and adopted under such charter or amendment thereto, shall provide that the duties of the council, or other legislative body, assessor, tax collector or other officers of such city with respect to the assessment of property in such city for the municipal taxes thereof, to the equalization and correction of such assessment, to the collection, payment and enforcement of such taxes, including delinquent taxes, and to the redemption of such property from sale or other penalty for nonpayment of the municipal taxes of such city, shall be performed by certain designated officers of the county in which such city is situated, as set forth in such charter, or amendment thereto, or in such ordinance, it shall be the duty of such county officers so designated to perform such duties in accordance with the provisions of this Act; provided, however, that the several county officers so designated to perform such duties for such city shall be officers who respectively perform duties of the same character as the officers of such city, whose duties are to be performed by such county officers.

SEC. 3. Upon the taking effect of any such charter, charter amendment or ordinance of such city, providing that the duties of the officers of such city with respect to the matters mentioned in section two of this Act shall be performed by the officers of the county in which such city is situated, a copy thereof, certified by county taxes, and real property so sold may be redeemed within the same time and upon the same terms as property sold for the non-payment of county taxes; and whenever any real property situate in such city has been sold for taxes and has been redeemed, the money paid for such redemption shall be apportioned by the county auditor to, and shall be paid to such city in the proportion which the tax due such city bears to the total tax for which such real property was sold; provided, however, that upon the taking effect of any charter, charter amendment, or ordinance to the effect mentioned in section two of this Act, all taxes of such city that shall have been levied prior thereto, including delinquent taxes, shall be collected, the payment thereof enforced in the same manner and upon the same penalties, and property may be sold for the non-payment thereof and may be redeemed from such sale in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided by the laws in force in said city at the time of the taking effect of such charter, charter amendment or ordinance; and such officers of such city as may be provided under the charter or ordinance thereof, shall collect and enforce the payment of such taxes, including delinquent taxes, and do any and all things that may be necessary in the sale of property for the non-payment of such taxes and in the redemption thereof from such sale.

SEC. 6. Whenever any charter provision, or any ordinance of the character mentioned in section two of this Act shall be repealed, the duties authorized by such charter provision or ordinance so repealed to be performed by officers of the county in which such city is situated, shall thereupon cease to be performed by such officers; provided, however, that upon such repeal, all taxes of said city that shall have been levied prior thereto, including delinquent taxes, shall, as in this Act provided, be collected, the payment thereof enforced in the same manner and upon the same penalties, and property may be sold for the non-payment thereof and may be redeemed from such sale, in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided by laws applicable to the collection and enforcement of the payment of county taxes, including delinquent taxes, and to the sale and redemption from the sale of property sold for the non-payment of county taxes; and the officers of such county shall have all the powers and perform all the duties relative thereto as may be provided by law in the case of county taxes and the sale and redemption from sale of property for the non-payment thereof.

SEC. 7. The amount of compensation to be charged by and paid to any county for the performance of services contemplated by the provisions of this Act, for and on behalf of any city in such county, shall be fixed by agreement between the board of supervisors of such county and the legislative body of such city; provided, however, that such compensation shall in no event exceed one half of one per cent of all moneys collected for such city as in this Act provided. The board of supervisors shall, by an order spread upon its minutes, direct that the county tax collector and the county treasurer shall deduct from all taxes or moneys in their hands, collected for or on behalf of such city, and before the payment thereof to the treasurer of such city as in this Act provided, the percentage thereof to be charged by such county for the services mentioned in this Act, and such percentage so deducted shall be paid into or transferred to such fund of the county and in such manner as the board of supervisors shall direct.

SEC. 8. This Act shall in no wise affect any other Act or Acts providing that duties of officers of cities may be performed by county officers; and if any such Act or Acts provide for or apply to the performance by county officers of the duties of officers of cities governed under freeholders' charters, this Act is intended to, and does provide an alternative method by which the duties of the officers of any such city with respect to the matters mentioned in section two of this Act may be performed by officers of the county in which such city is situated.

SEC. 36. Any elector qualified to take part in any primary election, who has, at least thirty days before the day of such primary election, qualified by registration, as provided by Section 1096 of the Political Code, shall be entitled to vote at such primary election, such right to vote being subject to challenge only as hereinbefore provided; and shall, on writing his name or having it written for him on the roster, as provided by law for general elections in this state, receive the official primary election ballot of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration; or the non-partisan ballot, providing no such party was so designated, and no other: provided, however, that no one shall be entitled to vote at any primary election who has not been a resident of the state one year, and of the county ninety days, preceding the day upon which such primary election is held. He shall be instructed by a member of the board as to the proper method of marking and folding his ballot, and he shall then retire to an unoccupied booth and without undue delay stamp the same with the rubber stamp there found. If he shall spoil or deface the ballot he shall at once return the same to the ballot clerk and receive another.

SEC. 37. The voter shall designate his choice on the ballot by stamping a cross (×) in the small square opposite the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote. If he shall stamp more names than there are candidates to be nominated for any office, or if for any reason it be impossible to determine his choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but the rest of his ballot, if properly stamped, shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice, nor even though such ballot be somewhat soiled or defaced.

SEC. 38. When a voter has stamped his ballot he shall fold it so that its face shall be concealed and only the printed designation on the back thereof shall be visible, and hand the same to the member of the board in charge of the ballot box. Such folded ballot shall be voted as ballots are voted at general elections and the name of the voter checked upon the register as having voted.

SEC. 39. No adjournment or intermission whatever shall take place until the polls shall be closed and until all the votes cast at such polls shall be counted and the result publicly announced, but this shall not be deemed to prevent any temporary recess while taking meals or for the purpose of other necessary delay; provided, that no more than one member of the board shall at any time be absent from the polling place.

SEC. 40. As soon as the polls are finally closed the judges must immediately proceed to canvass the votes cast at such primary election. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof declared. Except as hereinafter provided the canvass shall be conducted, completed and returned as provided by Sections 1253, 1254, 1255, 1256, 1257, 1258, 1259, 1260, 1261, 1262, 1263, 1264, 1265, 1266, 1267 and 1268 of the Political Code of this state; provided, however, that the ballots of each party must be sealed and returned in separate envelopes, and the non-partisan ballots must be sealed and returned in another separate envelope. The number of ballots agreeing or being made to agree with the number of names on the lists, as provided by Section 1255 of the Political Code, the board must take the ballots from the box, count those cast by each party, and string them separately; count all the votes cast for each party candidate for the several offices and record the same on the tally lists, and count all the votes on all the ballots both party and non-partisan, for the candidates for non-partisan office, and record the same on the tally lists.

SEC. 41. The board of supervisors of each county, the board of election commissioners in any city and county, or, in the case of a city or municipal primary election, the officers charged by law with the duty of canvassing the vote at any city or municipal election in such political subdivision, shall meet at the usual place of such meeting, or at any other place permitted by law, at one o'clock in the afternoon of the first Thursday after each primary election to canvass the returns, or as soon thereafter as all the returns are in. When begun the canvass shall be continued until completed, which shall not be later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the sixteenth day following such primary election. The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter upon the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement shall contain the whole number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party for each candidate for each non-partisan office, for each candidate for delegate, if any, to a state convention from a holdover senatorial district, and for each candidate for membership in the county central committee; and a duplicate as to each political party shall be delivered to the county, city and county or city chairman of such political party, as the case may be. The clerk shall also make an additional duplicate statement in the same form, showing the votes cast for each candidate not voted for wholly within the limits of such county or city and county. The county clerk shall forthwith send to the secretary of state by registered mail or by express one complete copy of all returns as to such candidates, and as to all candidates for the state assembly, state senate, representatives in congress, judicial officers, (except justices of the peace); delegate, if any, to a state meet in a state convention at the state capitol at two o'clock in the afternoon of the third Tuesday in September after the date on which any primary election is held preliminary to the general November election. They shall forthwith formulate the state platforms of their party, which said state platform of each political party shall be framed at such time that it shall be made public not later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the following Thursday. They shall also proceed to elect a state central committee to consist of at least three (3) members from each congressional district, who shall hold office until a new state central committee shall have been selected. In each year of the general November election at which electors of president and vice president of the United States are to be chosen, they shall also nominate as the candidates of their party as many electors of president and vice president of the United States as the state is then entitled to, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue certificates of nomination to the electors so nominated, and to cause the names of such candidates for elector to be placed upon the ballots at the ensuing November election.

2. Membership in the state convention shall not be granted to a party nominee for a state office or office of senator or assemblyman who has become such by reason of his name having been written on a ballot, and who has not had his name printed on the primary ballot by having had a nomination paper filed in his behalf, as provided in this Act; and, in every such case, a vacancy shall be deemed to exist; and any vacancy thereby existing, or existing because no nomination for such office has been made, or for any other cause, shall be filled as hereinafter provided.

3. In any senatorial district represented by a hold-over senator, there shall be chosen at such primary election by the electors of each political party one delegate to the state convention, who shall have nomination papers circulated in his behalf, shall have his name placed upon the ballot, and shall be chosen in the same manner as a state senator is nominated from any senatorial district, but no such delegate shall be disqualified by reason of holding any office.

4. In the event that there shall not have been filed any nomination paper for a candidate for any state office or office of senator or assemblyman by the electors of any political party, the vacancy thus created in the state convention of such party shall be filled as follows:

(a) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district situated wholly within the limits of a single county or city and county, by appointment by the newly elected county central committee of such party in such county or city and county.

(b) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district comprising two or more counties, by appointment by the newly selected chairmen of the several newly elected county central committees of such party in such counties.

(c) If the vacancy occurs in a state office, by appointment by the state central committee of such party.

Such delegates so appointed shall present to the convention credentials signed by the chairman and the secretary of the appointing committee, or by the appointing chairmen of the several committees, as the case may be.

5. Each such committee may select an executive committee, to which executive committee it may grant all or any portion of its powers and duties. It shall choose its officers by ballot and each committee and its officers shall have the power usually exercised by the such committees and the officers thereof in so far as same be consistent with this Act. The various officers and committees now in existence shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until their successors are chosen in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 44. At each August primary election there shall be elected in each county or city and county a county central committee for each political party, which shall have charge of the party campaign under general direction of the state central committee or of the executive committee selected by such state central committee.

In all counties containing five or more assembly districts the county central committee shall be elected by assembly districts and shall consist of five members from each such assembly district.

In all counties containing less than five assembly districts the county central committee shall be elected by precincts and shall consist of one member from each precinct. Each candidate for member of a county central committee shall appear upon the ballot upon the filing of a nomination paper according to the provisions of section five of this Act, signed in his behalf by the electors of the political subdivision in which he is a candidate, as above provided, and the number of candidates to which each party is entitled, as hereinbefore provided, in each political subdivision, receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected.

Each county central committee shall meet in the courthouse at its county seat on the second Tuesday in September following the August primary election and shall organize by selecting a chairman, a secretary and such other officers and committees as it shall deem necessary for carrying on the campaign of the party.

SEC. 45. In case, as a result of any primary election, a person has received a nomination to any elective office without first having filed nominating papers and having his name printed on the primary election ballot, he may at least thirty days before the day of election cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing the contestee for any purpose shall be permitted, and any appearance whatever of the contestee or any request of the court by the contestee or his attorney, shall be entered as a general appearance in the contest. No demurrer or objection can be taken by the contestee in any other manner than by answer, and all the objections of the contestee must be contained in his answer in the contest. The court if the contestee shall appear, must require the answer to be made within three days from the time and place as above provided, and if the contestee shall not appear shall note his default, and shall proceed to hear and determine the contest with all convenient speed. If the number of votes which are sought to be recounted, or the number of contests are such that the judge shall be of opinion that it will require additional judges to enable the contest or contests to be determined in time to print the ballots for the election, if there be only one judge for such county, he may obtain the service of any other superior judge, and the proceedings shall be the same as herein provided in counties where there is more than one superior court judge. If the proceeding is in a county or city and county where there is more than one superior court judge, the judge to whom the case or cases shall be assigned, shall notify the presiding judge forthwith, of the number of judges which he deems necessary to participate, in order to finish the contest or contests in time to print the ballots for the primary election, and the said presiding judge shall forthwith designate as many judges as are necessary to such completion of such contest, by order in writing, and thereupon all of the judges so designated shall participate in the recount of such ballots and the giving of judgment in such contest or contests in the manner herein specified. The said judges so designated by said last mentioned order, including the judge to whom said contests were originally assigned, shall convene upon call from the judge to whom such contest or contests were originally assigned, and agree upon the precincts which each one of such judges will recount, sitting separately, and thereupon such recount shall proceed before each such judge sitting separately, as to the precincts so arranged, in such manner that the recount shall be made in such precincts before each such judge as to all the contests pending, so that the ballots opened before one judge need not be opened before another judge or department, and the proceedings before such judge in making such recount as to the appointment of the clerk and persons necessary to be assistants of the court in making the same, shall be the same as in contested elections, and the judge shall fix the pay or compensation for such persons and require the payment each day in advance, of the amount thereof by the person who is proceeding with and requiring the recount. When the recount shall have been completed in the manner herein required, if more than one judge has taken part therein, all the judges who took part shall assemble and make the decision of court and if there be any differences of opinion, a majority of such judges shall finally determine all such questions, and give the decision or judgment of the court in such contest or contests, separately. Such decision or judgment of the court shall be final in every respect, and no appeal can be had therefrom. The judgment shall be served upon the county clerk or registrar of voters by delivery of a certified copy thereof, and may be enforced summarily in the manner provided in section forty-seven of this Act, and if the contest proceeds to more than one county and the contestee is to be certified by secretary of state from the compilation of election returns in his office, then the judgment in each county shall show what, if any changes in the returns in the office of the secretary of state relating to such county or city and county, ought to be made, and all such judgments shall be served upon the secretary of state, by the delivery of a certified copy, and he shall make such changes in the record in his office as such judgment or judgments require, and conform his compilation, and his certificate of nomination in accordance therewith.

SEC. 49. No candidate for nomination to any elective office, including that of United States senator in congress, shall directly or indirectly pay, expend or contribute any money or other valuable thing, or promise so to do, except for lawful expenses. REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The following report was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 10, 1913.

To the Senate of the State of California:

The joint committee, appointed under Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23, to investigate the conduct of the office of Secretary of State, Frank C. Jordan, incumbent, and of each department and branch thereof and the acts of said Secretary of State and of each of and of his subordinates, deputies or assistants acting in any capacity and pursuant to the duties of such office of Secretary of State or of any other office which he may fill in any other capacity, and upon the conclusion of such investigation to report to both houses of this Legislature the result thereof, together with such conclusions and recommendations as your committee shall deem proper, reports that pursuant to said resolution, the committee met and organized by electing Senator Hewitt chairman, Senator Kehoe vice chairman, and selected Theodore Roche to examine the witnesses on behalf of said committee; that the taking of testimony was commenced on the 16th day of April, 1913, and concluded on the twenty-sixth day of the same month; that during said time testimony, both oral and documentary, was introduced and received, that at all automobile registrations were treated by Frank M. Jordan as private records, and the public was not given access to the same; the applications for automobile registrations were there also so handled that the public was not given access to them on the day on which they were filed, and the same system of selling like reports as those furnished for compensation from the main office at Sacramento was carried on by Frank M. Jordan, in charge of said branch office; that large sums of money were collected at said branch office by said Frank M. Jordan from the selling of said reports that should have been turned into the treasury of the State of California by said Secretary of State, but that no part of said amount has been so paid into said treasury. That the exact amount so collected by said Frank M. Jordan at said branch office has not been ascertained by your committee, but the evidence is sufficient to show that it aggregated, at least, twenty-one hundred dollars.

Your committee, therefore, feels justified under the evidence introduced in reporting that at least seventy-seven hundred (7700) dollars has been so collected in the office of the Secretary of State through his employees and agents, and that the same has not been turned into the treasury of the State. We recommend that the Attorney General be requested to take such steps as he deems proper for the collection of all said sums of money or such sums as may be found to be due to the State of California.

We further find that in failing to account for the aforesaid moneys and pay them into the state treasury, the said Secretary of State has failed to fulfill his obligations to the State of California, and in permitting public records to be withheld from public inspection as aforesaid has been guilty of malfeasance in office.

Your committee further recommends that the attention of the Attorney General of California be called to the testimony given by Alma A. Brewer before the committee to the end that said Attorney General may take such action with reference to said testimony as he may deem proper.

Respectfully submitted.

LESLIE R. HEWITT, Chairman.
WILLIAM KEHOE.

PROCEEDINGS OF LEGISLATIVE CONFERENCE.

On motion of Senator Cannetti, the Senate ordered printed in the Journal the addresses delivered on the third day of May, 1913, at a conference of the Senate and Assembly, with Hon. Albert J. Wallace, President of the Senate, in the chair, at which were present Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State of the United States, and Hon. Hiram W. Johnson, Governor of California, as follows:

Farewell remarks of Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State of the United States, as representative of the President of the United States; and of Hon. Lee C. Gates, Senator from the Thirty-fourth District of California, in response thereto, in behalf of the Legislature of the State, delivered at a conference of the members of the Legislature, held May 3, 1913.

Mr. Secretary Bryan addressed the conference as follows:

Governor Johnson, Lieutenant Governor Wallace, Speaker Young and Members of the Legislature:

As I am departing this afternoon for Washington, I deem it proper that I should say a final word to you. My coming, at the President's request, upon the mission that brought me, was unusual, and yet in the President's opinion, not only right in principle but wise in policy. It was in keeping with his own course in appearing in person to deliver a message to Congress. He recognizes the division of the powers of government among the three departments, the executive, the legislative and the judicial, but he feels that, as they must co-operate in the conduct of the government, there should be the utmost frankness and cordiality between them in the performance of their respective duties. In the manner, which he recognizes the division of responsibility between the Federal Government and the several states, he believes that this division should not preclude conference and consultation between the executive of the nation and those entrusted by your state constitution with the exercise of state authority.

A question having arisen, which, while local in its immediate operation, is yet national and even international in some of its phases, he objected to advise against the use of certain language in bills which were under consideration. When it seemed probable that the words would be used, notwithstanding the advice he had earnestly given, he asked whether it would be agreeable to the Legislature to have the Secretary of State visit Sacramento to confer in regard to the national and international phases of the question. The reply made by the Legislature was in the form of a resolution which reads as follows:

> "Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That while this Senate respectfully maintains the right of the Legislature of the State of California to legislate on the subject of land ownership within the state, it will be entirely agreeable to the Senate to have the Secretary of State of the United

Whose said Secretary for the purpose referred to the President a statement and bill as follows:

Resolved, That in view of the pressing press announcement of the Legislature, the Secretary of the Senate be and is hereby instructed to transmit forthwith [illegible] to the President.

At this juncture would not be interrupted by an [illegible]. It is more important [illegible] and that I mentioned this my deeply upon the subject that he and I can have by public view.

I shall not discuss the resolutions [illegible] which have created. The Legislature, as we [illegible] and [illegible] of consideration which [illegible] of its suggestions to [illegible] the President a message to the meeting of the [illegible] to explain [illegible] to [illegible]. While I regret [illegible] to [illegible] to [illegible] to the action of the Executive on [illegible], I deem it [illegible] the President's views that I do not [illegible] a longer [illegible]. On the contrary, I [illegible] I can [illegible] [illegible] in Washington where the President has [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] the Secretary of [illegible] [illegible] the Legislature.

I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

do, that you act not only as the representatives of the State dealing with lands lying within the State, but as the representatives of a state occupying a position among her sister states and sharing with them an interest in and responsibility for international relations.

You are fortunate in this State in having the initiative and referendum. The initiative spurs you on to do that which you believe your people want done, while the referendum empowers those for whom you speak to put their veto upon your acts if you fail to reflect their wishes. It may be assumed, therefore, that if you feel it your duty to enact any legislation on this subject at this time, your people will either manifest their approval by acquiescence, or their disapproval by submitting your action to the judgment of the voters by means of the referendum.

I leave you with renewed assurances of the President's friendly concern in the subject with which you are dealing, and my appreciation of the kind reception which you have accorded me as his spokesman.

Senator Gates, in response, spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT: If I may be permitted to speak the sentiments of this Legislature at this moment, I beg to convey to the Secretary of State of our nation, and through him to the chief executive whom we delight to honor and follow in all respects and to every degree, which we believe consonant with our duty to our State and to the work entrusted to us upon this coast, I would say that this Legislature appreciates to its fullest degree the honor that has been done to this State by the visit of the Secretary of State to join with us in an endeavor to write such legislation as shall be for the protection of our State, of our people, of our civilization upon this coast and the honor of the nation and of our relations with the sister nations of the earth.

We realize that the visit of the Secretary of State upon a mission of this character, traversing the continent from coast to coast to cooperate with us to the end that we are seeking, marks an era in American politics, marks a degree of advance which we believe will be for the benefit of the nation at large and the conduct of public affairs hereafter, in that it brings the national government into closer touch with the individual states and marks a further advance in making of the states each a closer integral part with the great family of states of which this nation is composed.

Mr. President, I beg further to express upon the part of this Legislature our profound appreciation and gratitude for the interest which has been taken by the national government in the problem that confronts the Legislature of California, and to assure the Secretary of State and the President of the United States that even though we may differ in the phraseology and terms which we may feel necessary to employ in legislation of the kind which is responsible for the visit of the Secretary of State that we do it with the profoundest respect for the opinions of the President and his Secretary of State which have animated this visit, and if we feel impelled to depart in the slightest degree from the advice of the President, we still do it with the highest respect for the wishes of the chief executive of our nation.

Speaking finally, I wish to say, and I know that I now express the sentiments of the Legislature here, that it is the purpose and desire upon the part of this Legislature, in so far as it finds or can find it consonant with the duty it has to perform for the people of this State, to comply with the wishes of the chief executive, and that we thank the President and his Secretary for the assistance which they have given to us and to express the hope that this visit may be the forerunner of further activities by the national government in assisting the sister states composing the republic, in the discharge of their duties as parts of our great republic.

And now, upon behalf of this Legislature, I beg Mr. Bryan to express the thanks of the Legislature to the President of the United States for his interest and assistance, and to you for the courtesy and kindness with which you have discharged your ambassadorship to the Legislature of the State of California.

Section 21. The Railroad Commission shall have and exercise such power and jurisdiction to supervise and regulate every railroad in the State of California, and to do this as fully and completely as may be necessary to carry into effect the powers which are granted by this article to the Railroad Commission, notwithstanding any prior or subsequent declaration by the Legislature that any railroad, railroad system, steamboat line, or steamship line, or other transportation system, is a public utility subject to control by the Railroad Commission.

The legislature shall by concurrent resolution approve or reject such charter as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment; and if approved by a majority of the members elected to each house it shall become the organic law of such city or city and county, and supersede any existing charter and all laws inconsistent therewith. One copy of the charter so ratified and approved shall be filed with the secretary of state, one with the recorder of the county in which such city is located, and one in the archives of the city, and thereafter the courts shall take judicial notice of the provisions of such charter. The charter of any city or city and county may be amended by proposals therefor submitted by the legislative body of the city on its own motion or on petition signed by fifteen per cent of the registered electors, or both. Such proposals shall be submitted to the electors only during the six months next preceding a regular session of the legislature or thereafter and before the final adjournment of that session and at either a special election called for that purpose or at any general or special election. The amendments so submitted shall be advertised in the same manner as herein provided for the advertisement of a proposed charter, and the election thereon held at a date to be fixed by the legislative body of such city, not less than forty days after the completion of the advertising in the official paper, and prior to the regular session of the legislature. To-day your answer and that of the administration of California is given to the organized conspiracy of detraction that for the past four months has been endeavoring to poison our people. Today there is presented to California a record of accomplishment by this Legislature which if accomplished in any other state in a decade would be a matter of wonder and pride. A repetition of something of that which you have done is at once your answer to the "special interest" press of the State, your justification to your constituents and your lasting monument as legislators.

You have presented to the people:

1. A comprehensive Workmen's Compensation Act, which embodies the philosophy of humanity that has now taken such deep root in the nation, and under which, without injustice to employers, those who are least able to bear the burden of injury may be fairly compensated. By the insurance clauses of this Act, the cost of the care of the maimed and the injured will rest lightly.

2. The minimum wage law enables us, after appropriate investigation, to give a living wage to those who most require it.

3. You have added to the existing Act providing for orphans and half-orphans so that by co-operation with the counties the State may provide an adequate mother's pension.

4. You have anticipated the problem which will come to us with the opening of the Panama Canal in increased immigration, and, by an immigration law that has met the approval of all familiar with the subject, have afforded us the means to meet that problem and wisely solve it, and to care for those who soon shall come among us, and to prevent their congestion in the centers of population.

5. You have passed many Acts improving the sanitary conditions of those who are compelled to labor, and provided for their safety, their health and their well-being. Space will not permit the enumeration specifically of all of the Acts of this character, but their design is in the line of enlightened legislation, which no longer can be denied.

6. The attempt has been made to conserve the water and the water power of the State in the water commission bill.

7. Henceforth merit alone in the civil service you have preserved by the civil service bill.

8. Investors have been protected and legitimate enterprises fostered by the enactment of a blue sky law.

9. By various Acts you have endeavored to preserve common honesty in weights and in measures, and to require that those who sell shall honestly deliver what they represent they sell.

10. Elections for county officials are taken, so far as law may take them, from the domain of politics, and hereafter, if the design of the bills you have enacted can be carried out, county elections will be non partisan in character.

11. By an appropriation of half a million dollars you have carried out the mandate of our people in reference to free text-books and provided for the distribution of text-books to the pupils of the State free of cost.

12. The abatement and injunction bill is the endeavor of the legislative authority of the State in earnest to suppress the evil at which it is aimed, and it transfers the burden of the social evil from woman to property.

13. You have endeavored to reorganize the State Board of Education, finally, with due and adequate attention to the elementary schools of the State.

14. By various Acts you have sought to ameliorate the conditions of the children who are compelled by dire necessity to toil, or who require the protection of the State. I can not within limited space describe all of the Acts in this regard, but they go forward in behalf of those who most need our nurturing care and protection.

15. You have sanctioned the investigation of the system of rural credits in vogue in European countries and have provided the means for that investigation, so that, if desirable, it may be applied to our State for the benefit of our farmers.

16. By appropriations commensurate with the needs you have made the great University of California the laboratory for all the people. In enlarging the University Farm, enabling the best talent to be obtained and giving the means necessary for the tremendously practical work that is contemplated, you have at last placed the University of California close to the soil of the State, and have conferred invaluable benefits upon the farmers and horticulturists of the State.

Of course, a great constructive work can not be done without great cost. To provide and distribute free text-books will require more than half a million dollars; to put the workmen's compensation law into effective operation means the expenditure of some hundreds of thousands; to erect another hospital for the insane in the south that is considered absolutely essential to the orderly conduct of the State's public affairs there, requires a sum over a million of money. In these three items expenditures run over two million dollars, but all are essential, and the expenditures will readily be acquiesced in by all patriotic citizens.

I have not attempted to set forth a tithe of that which this Legislature has done. Some only of the more important measures in this portray do I call to your attention. If these measures be "freak measures," and those who have enacted them be "freaks," we may well bear all the odium that may come from the application of that vote. With the exception of "Ayes" and "Noes" no other words than the name of the Senator voting and the word "Excused" shall be recorded.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
